

Antiparos

Inspired by a large prehistoric ocean that once covered the Moroccan Sahara more than 380 million years ago, we present Antiparos. The vivid movements within Antiparos mimic the rich sea life once present in the now desolate and austere landscape. Pressure and heat helped cultivate the striking beauty of Erfoud fossils, much like the pressure and heat necessary for creating beautiful porcelain tile. Designers will delight in the intense complexity of the tile. Antiparos is available in five chic colors and matching mosaics/trim pieces.
